Hilarious Hebrew: The Fun and Fast Way to Learn the Language By Yael Breuer, Eyal Shavit

Hilarious Hebrew is a book that will help you memorise Hebrew words in a FUN and FAST way, with no tedious repetition. Hilarious Hebrew is for anyone interested in learning new Hebrew words and the method used works wonderfully for ANYBODY, whether they consider themselves good at learning a foreign language or not. All you need to do is... read the carefully constructed sentences, enjoy the illustrations or simply imagine the situations described in the sentences - you will be amazed at your ability to remember the new words! This is how it works: Each new word is taught in the context of a sentence, written in English, that teaches the pronunciation of the word in Hebrew as well as its meaning through the contents of the sentence. For example, as the Hebrew word for 'house' is 'buyit', our sentence is: 'what a lovely HOUSE! I think I'm going to BUY IT'. Or, as the Hebrew for 'cold' is 'kar', our sentence reads -'it's COLD in my CAR'

Editorial Review

Review

The book cleverly uses sentences in English, with recognizable illustrations, to introduce Hebrew words. The humour is quite rightly hilarious and the Hebrew is memorable, making Hilarious Hebrew a must-have learning companion. And if you're not learning, this book is a great place to start. In the case of Hilarious Hebrew, you really should judge a book by its cover. --Jewish News UK

The book essentially teaches Hebrew words in an entertaining and original way, through sentences written in English and accompanying illustrations. --Mike Cohen, Jewish Tribune Canada

Breuer and Shavit's methodology is geared toward people who learn best through narrative and visual cues. --Renee Ghert-Zand, Times of Israel

Even the most ardent supporters of Israel might wish at times that its inhabitants had chosen an easier language ...two Israeli expats have come up with the idea of applying English phrases as memory cues to make Hebrew words stick in their minds. The result is a slim, richly illustrated and frequently funny pocket book by Yael Breuer and Eyal Shavit titled Hilarious Hebrew and billed as the fun and fast way to learn the language.

For instance, a cartoon shows a mountain climber and his unhappy dog getting soaked in the rain, with the man exclaiming, OH, HELL. We forgot the TENT. Below is the linguistic link: The Hebrew word for 'TENT' is ... OHEL. The final word is spelled out in both English and Hebrew letters.

The first to test the efficacy of the authors' teaching method was Smith, a gentile Brit, who absorbed many Hebrew words while doing the illustrations for the book.

Breuer said she is perhaps proudest of the comment from a student she had tutored 22 years earlier and had recently met again. "She recited the English phrases I had given her two decades earlier to link them to Hebrew words, and she said they were still completely ingrained in her brain," Breuer said. --Tom Tugend, Jewish Journal - England

For those looking to boost their Hebrew skills, a recent book, Hilarious Hebrew, has come the rescue. It pairs 235 Hebrew words with bad puns tying together their English meaning, often illustrated with a cartoon.

So sure, when it comes to being proper on Hebrew pronunciation, you might find a safer book. But you won't find a funnier one. --Larry Yudelson, New Jersey Jewish Standard
