Voices From A Wilderness Expedition: The Journals And Men Of Benedict Arnold'S Expedition To Quebec In 1775 By Stephen Darley

The purpose of Voices from a Wilderness Expedition is to reawaken the now silent voices of the brave men who made this historic march from Cambridge to Quebec with Benedict Arnold in 1775. It is not a chronological history of that expedition but rather proves details and new information about the lives of the men who participated and, equally important, the journals that recorded the hardships of the march. It provides significant new information on both the men and the journals that has never been published.

The book features the following: a comprehensive roster of 1125 names of officers and men, by company, who were on the expedition; first ever bibliography of all printings of 30 journals written by participants; transcription of 6 previously unpublished journals, three of which were found in the University of Glasgow Library; new biographical information on Col. Roger Enos and Capts Hendricks, Hubbard, Hanchett, McCobb Williams and Goodrich; identification of name and history of Capt Scott, a previously unknown company commander.

Editorial Review

From the Back Cover

Benedict Arnold's trek through the Maine wilderness, which contemporaries compared to Hannibal's march over the Alps, is a legendary part of the Revolutionary War. Through painstaking research, Stephen Darley has meticulously tracked down the names of 1125 soldiers who made this epic journey. He has also compiled an unprecedented bibliography of over thirty first-hand accounts of the expedition, some of which were previously unknown or unpublished. Voices from a Wilderness Expedition deepens our understanding of this important event from the American War for Independence.

Michael P. Gabriel, Kurtztown University, author of Major General Richard Montgomery: The Making of an American Hero.
